Dear Mike Powell,

The governor of New York with whom Dr. King did more than sit down was Nelson Rockefeller. If you are interested in this you'll find it in Dave Garrow's Pulitzer "Bearing the Cross." Where also, and I say this not for publication, you'll also find credit to me for my help. I've spent thousands of hours on Dr. King and his assassination.

Rockefeller was a major contributor to Dr. King's efforts.

I've been keeping copies of this Goebbels outpouring and the letters but I've not had time.

Sorry this was so rushed.

It does make all of you, not just Mr. Somebody, look bad.

Best wishes,

Harold
